M. will receive and open bids from any banking corporation, association or individual banker in said county desiring to act as the depository for the funds of Medina County. Article 2441 Revised Statutes provides: Any banking corporation, association or individual banker desiring to bid, shall deliver to the County Judge, on or before the first day of the term of the Commissioner's Court at which the selection of a depository is to be made, a sealed proposal, stating the rate of interest that said banking corporation, association, or individual banker and depository offers to pay on the funds of the county for the term between the date of such bid and the next regular time for the selection of a depository. Said bid shall be accompanied by a certified check for not less than one-half of one per cent of the county revenue of the preceding year as a guarantee of the good faith on the part of the bidder, and that, if his bid should be accepted, he will enter into the bond as required by law, and upon the failure of the banking corporation, association, or individual banker in such county that may be selected as such depository, to give the bond required by law, the amount of such certified check shall go to the county judge as liquidated damages and the county judge shall re-advertise for bids. SHE HAD LAID HER CRUTCHES ASIDE

Thought She Would Never Be Well Of Rheumatism But Gets Around Well As Ever Now.

"My neighbors thought I would never be up and about again, but since taking Tanlac I have laid aside my crutches and can get around as well as I could twenty years ago;" said Mrs. Flora Wilcox, of 700 West McCormick street, Wichita, Kan.

"For twenty years," said Mrs. Wilcox, "I suffered terribly from rheumatism, and it was all I could do to get around on crutches much less do any of my housework. My limbs pained me dreadfully, and I had such awful pains under my left shoulder blade and in my arms that I couldn't raise my hands to my head.

I couldn't eat anything without suffering from a burning sensation and intense pains in my stomach. Gas formed on my stomach and pressed up around my heart, causing severe palpitation and I could scarcely breathe.
Most of the time it was all I could do to lie down, and I got very little sleep or rest at night. My condition finally became so bad that I had just about given up all hope of ever getting better.

"I have taken eight bottles of Tanlac now and my appetite is just splendid. I eat anything I want and am never troubled with gas, palpitation or pains around my heart. The rheumatism is entirely gone. I do all my housework with perfect ease and at night I sleep like a child. Tanlac has simply been a blessing to me in restoring my health, and I praise it more than words can express.

Tanlac is sold in Hondo by W. H.
Windrow; in Castroville by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlap by Louis
A. Haby; and by all leading druggists.

A Sunday Show At Star Theatre.

Texas. This is part of a country wide movement to enlist the Motion Picture world in this great humanitarian relief work, and Mrs. Harrison and the Star Theatre, as usual, are rendering a full measure of charitable service.

Go out and see the show, enjoy yourself and contribute to this charity at one and the same time. Tickets are only 15 and 25 cents, but there is no limit to the price you care to pay or the number you may buy.

The Mother.

The while she fits her brood for bed,
And scrubs away the dirt,
And gently brushes tangles out,
And heals the scratch that hurt.
She searches in their hearts as well
Each tiny bruised spot,
Where childish woes have pressed too hard
And left a bitter thought.

Says "Teacher wasn't cross—just tired,
She did not mean to scold."
And, "Grandpa did not understand,
Poor Grandpa's getting old."
"I think Tom said that just in fun,
Of course you must not mind."
"If she was mean, just pay her back
By being extra kind."

Thus, through her eyes, they view
their world
In love's most favoring light.
Then, when the whispered prayers are said,

All are kissed good-night,
In no love-cleansed, God-guarded heart
Can bitterness be found,
Since patient mother lips have drawn
The poison from each wound.

SPENDING with a prodigal hand is a sure way of eventually shaking hands with penury.

In all the affairs of life good and evil are so mixed that it puzzles the most sagacious to choose between the good and evil sides. No doubt the apple looked all right to Father Adam on the outside.

THE people of our capital city are very much agitated over a proposition to move the University from its present cramped situation within the city limits to a tract of land outside of the corporate limits, recently willed to the University by the late Col. Brackenridge of San Antonio. The proposed new site would be an ideal location
for a great University but its removal would entail an enormous expense upon the state to construct new buildings,
and it would play hob with property values around the present site where thousands of people have invested in order to live near the school.

Do not be alarmed over exaggerated reports of financial losses or feed your despair on disappointed hopes. For instance, if you expected to get two hundred dollars for a bale of cotton at forty cents and had to take a hundred instead by selling at twenty, you have not lost a hundred dollars. You have just failed to realize your expectations. You never had the hundred dollars in the first place and one can only lose that which he has. In the same way, the merchant who has had to cut his profits twenty-five or fifty per cent has not lost that; he has simply failed to realize his expectations.
With his original capital unimpaired he can simply take a new start and come again. Come on.

Fletcherized Farm Facts

By
FLETCHER DAVIS.

Produce for profits; no profit no production. That is the proper scheme for conducting your business.

The sooner the world recognizes the fact that it is no more the farmer's duty to produce at a loss in order that the world may be fed than it is for the railroads, for instance, to carry them free in order that they may travel the sooner will it be willing to accord him a profitable price.

This is the season of the year for planning the farm operations for the year. Plan to make the farm as near self-sustaining as possible. This is the best assurance of profitable prices at harvest time that you can provide.

Go out into your cotton stubble where boll weevils were numerous late last fall. Pluck a few of the immature, unopened bolls, crack them carefully and see if you can not locate the source of your next year's boll-weevil infestation. Recently, I examined a lot of such bolls that had been brought from the field into a warm room and in nearly every boll was found not just one but a pair of these pests, fully matured and very much alive, hibernating in the "house of their nativity", so to speak, and waiting for spring to come so they can begin the destruction of the next crop. Try it and see what you find.

If boll weevils are hibernating in the cotton stalks, obviously the thing to do now is to destroy the stalks at once and make as clean a sweep as possible. They should have been plowed under a good while ago, so as to have been rotten by now; but get rid of them if they have to be burned up clean. In the meantime, burn off all the waste places adjacent to the cotton fields, and then plan to rotate the cotton land to other crops if possible.

Speaking of plowing under the cotton stalks early, the land could have been broken deep then to advantage, whereas now it is too late in the season for deep breaking to be advisable. But vegetation does not need to be plowed under deep. In fact, if it can be cut up and well mixed with the first few surface inches of the soil it will rot and become available for the feeding of new plants more readily than when turned under too deeply. Try it yet this season.

Although it is late for deep breaking, there is still time for terracing those washing lands and the laying off of the rows with the contour of the land on rolling hillsides. Plan to take care of your soil. Once washed away, it will be hard to replace.

Dr. Frederick V. Emerson, in a recently published work, "Agricultural Geology," says: "The accumulation of an inch of limestone soil has required a vastly longer period than the length of known historical time, and a realization of this should lead to a conservation of our soils, which have required so long a time for their formation and will require an equally long time for their replacement." Think of it, you who have let the rich black soil wash away, leaving only the bleaching gravel on your rolling hillsides.

If your poultry has the run of a patch of small grain and you are not being supplied with an abundance of fresh eggs you need to change your breed of fowls. By the way, with purebred fowls as cheap as they are now a mongrel flock ought to be a curiosity. But are they? I'll say they are not!

Speaking of small grain reminds us that in many places the rabbits are depredating severely on this crop and farmers are crying out for some means of destroying these pests. And in some places a means of destroying them must be found or much of the crop will be lost.

MR. MARKS' METHOD.

In this connection, Mr. T. G. Marks, a farmer living in the western part of the state where rabbits are always a pest, gives the following as his method of poisoning rabbits: Take a few pieces, or as many as may be needed, of inch or two-inch thick board (a piece of one by four will be found convenient) and bore a hole with an inch auger about half an inch deep in one side of it.

Get you a quantity of common table salt and some strichnine and go to that part of the field most frequented by the rabbits. Pour about a tablespoonful of the salt in the auger hole. Take about what you can lift on the point of a pen-knife of the strichnine, mix thoroughly with the salt and drop enough water on it to make the salt run together in a hard mass, so it can not be knocked out easily or scattered on the ground. Arrange enough of these baits to cover all of the infested part of the

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines and Go Bet The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach headache can be relieved by Black-Draught. It aids digestion, assists the liver in throwing off ties. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a household remedy with a history of over seventy years of success.

Every one occasionally needs to help cleanse the system of impurities.

Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.

In the mile square of former Russian barracks in Alexandropol, Republic of Armenia, are housed 5,347 little Armenian orphans under care of the Near East Relief. Every bite they eat, every stitch they wear, is the gift of the people of the United States, through the Near East Relief. In addition, the Near East Relief hospital has a daily average of 1,211 children patients, while 1,049 others are given medical treatment which does not require confinement to hospital beds. Over 34,000 little Armenian children are housed, clothed and fed by the Near East Relief in Armenia and Syria.

In all over 110,000 little children are being kept alive by American aid.

ARMENIAN GIRL PLEADS FOR SISTERS

Tragic Tale of Harem Victims' Sufferings.

More than ten thousand Armenian girls have been rescued from Turkish harems through the help and generosity of America. This is the statement given out by the Near East Relief, which is making the saving of these tragic victims of Turkish cruelty one of the most important features of its work.

That it is a work which in itself justifies the millions that America has spent in this stricken land is testified to by little Miss Eliza Dodurian, a twenty-year-old Armenian girl recently arrived in this country. Miss Dodurian, through the intervention of American missionaries, was herself snared

ELIZA DODURIAN.

The sufferings of exile and the horrors of slavery; but she knows all too well the terrible fate of her sisters and friends. It is for them—the soft-eyed little girls of fifteen and sixteen whom last she saw being torn from their mothers' arms and carried off on the saddle bows of the Turkish soldiers—that she makes her plea.

What their lives have been since then may be guessed by a look into the faces of any of the ten thousand who have passed through the Rescue Homes of the Near East Relief. Their heads bowed in shame, they creep into the American relief stations, trying vainly to hide the tattoo marks which proclaim to the world their story.

Thousands of these girls have been brought back to life and hope through the work of the Near East Relief. It is to rescue the one hundred thousand more still held captive that the Near East Relief is making its appeal this year.

110,000 Starving Children

PRESIDENT GETS LETTER FROM HEAD OF ARMENIAN CHURCH

Washington.—Archbishop Khoren, whose archiepiscopal see is Erivan, capital of the Armenian Republic, journeyed seven thousand miles to present President Wilson one of the quaintest and most touching documents in the archives of the State Department. It is illuminated by the monks of Etchmiadzin, the seat of the Armenian church since its separation from the Greek church, after the Council of Chalcedon in the year 451.

The Encyclical Letter, which the Archbishop presented to the President, reads:

"GEORGE Servant of Jesus Christ and by the Omnipotent Will of God, Arch-Priest and CATHOLICOS OF ALL THE ARMENIANS, Supreme Patriarch of the highest Armenian See of Ararat and of the Apostolic Mother Church at Etchmiadzin the Holy.

"To the NOLLE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

"AFFECTIONATE GREETINGS AND BLESSINGS from the CATHOLICOS OF ALL ARMENIANS and Apostolic Chief of the Holy Church of Armenia.

"With placid, profound feelings of devotion, we desire, through this Encyclical Letter of Ours, to place before you and to make known to you the expression of Our deep gratitude for the liberal help which, inspired by a spirit of philanthropy, you have extended to Us both by individual personal donations and through the sustaining assistance and alleviating instrumentality of the Near East Relief Organization. Individually and Collectively, combined in one body as it were, you gave and you brought to Us the fruits of your offerings, to the salvation and protection of Our Flock during the most bitter days of their suffering—sufferings which We attribute to the rigours of the War of Liberation, and to the cruelty of Our implacable Oppressors."

High Commissioner Praises Near East Relief

Rear Adm'l Bristol

Constantinople: Everybody seems to have a good word to say for the wonderful work being done by the more than 500 American men and women workers of the Near East Relief. In a public address, Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, U. S. Navy, High Commissioner to Turkey, who has charge of all American interests in the Near East, went on record whole-heartedly in support of the American relief organization.

"If I have been able to encourage the workers of the Near East Relief or give them assistance in any way," the Admiral said, "I feel that I am more than repaid in keeping with the success that has attended the efforts of the Near East Relief Committee in this part of the world in the past. I hope the future will bring you greater success. It will always give me pleasure to render any assistance possible to the Committee as a whole, to any of the workers, and to the great work of humanity that the committee represents."

When 120,000 Russian refugees from the Crimea arrived at Constantinople, Admiral Bristol immediately called the Near East Relief for help, and the Near East Relief bakers fed these refugees and N. E. R. workers helped the American sailors to get the sick to hospitals.

Admiral Bristol is in intimate touch with all the work being conducted by the Near East Relief and speaks from personal knowledge of its accomplishments.

INVESTIGATOR INDORSES NEAR EAST RELIEF

During the Peace Conference in Paris the American Commission to Negotiate Peace, appreciating the importance of accurate, first hand information about the Armenian situation, sent Capt. Benjamin Burges Moore of the American Red Cross as head of a special mission to study and report on conditions. Captain Moore's findings as to the value of the work done by the Near East Relief form part of his official report.

"Armenians are sincerely grateful to us," Captain Moore states, "since it is no exaggeration to say that they would have disappeared as a nation had it not been for this splendid help given them by the Near East Relief and the American Food Administration. The best that sympathetic Americans can do is to continue and enlarge the present admirable work of the Near East Relief."

cyclical Letter of Ours, to place before you and to make known to you the expression of Our deep gratitude for the liberal help which, inspired by a spirit of philanthropy, you have extended to Us both by individual personal donations and through the sustaining assistance and alleviating instrumentality of the Near East Relief Organization. "In expressing Our thanks for your generosity and for your evangelical commission, We, as the recognized Head of Our Spiritual Children, comprising the entire Armenian Nation, would be glad to view your acts of mercy as tokens of your continued assistance in the future, and that it is your purpose to continue to assist Us in Our regeneration and complete liberation, in the habilitation of a self-governing Nation. With these things in mind, We appeal to you all: to the Prelates of your Churches; to your devout Bishops, Our Brethren and beloved in Our Lord Jesus Christ; to men endowed with political and civil acumen; to those who have been called upon by the Lord in the Conduct of Public thought; and to every soul in which the spirit of Christian philanthropy glows. Come to our defense and to the cause of the Freedom of Our Flock. Come from the pulpits of your Churches; from the seats of your Council Chambers; from the platforms of Public Associations; from the sacrum of your Journals. Raise the mighty voices of your Nation and of your sympathetic people, as those of unfailing and unfaltering friends. We need them for the salvation of Our Flock, tortured in body and soul through centuries of suffering. And Our people will forever stand in history as witness that a Great Nation, prolific of welfare, stretched its helping hand and mighty arm to raise them up.

"The Grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ, and Our thankful Blessings be with you all, evermore, Amen.

Catholicos and Supreme Patriarch of All Armenians."

MAJOR GENERAL HARBORD SUPPORTS ARMENIA

New York.—At a mass meeting recently held here to consider the need of Armenia in the appalling disaster that has overtaken that unhappy land the following telegram was received from the commander of the Second Division:

"True to their religion, language and race through a thousand years of persecution, the Armenians must not be permitted to perish. Americans should aid them with moral, financial and political support."

GOB DESCRIBES ARMENIAN HORRORS

"You can't realize what a sight it is to see the refugee camp at Batum," Petty Officer George Porter, of Racine, Wis., writes his family, telling of the work of the Near East Relief in the ports along the Black Sea.

"The people are dying off little by little. There are workers of the relief organization here, but they don't seem to be able to take care of them all. They were the ones that made the camp. The families all live in grass huts, just high enough to sit up in, and they are covered with blankets. There is disease everywhere and the smell is terrible. I'm glad we didn't stay long, as I couldn't stand it, and you know when I can't stand anything there are few that can. I am sorry for these refugees, but we can't help any. They don't want money though they would sell their lives for some clothes and food. They don't stop praising the Americans.

Trebizond was another Armenian town, but it was completely wiped out by the Turks, who are now in control of it. The Turks massacred all the Armenians over fifteen years of age and kept all under that age to bring them up as Turks. The city looked as if it was shot to pieces. Samsoun is the same as Trebisond, so you can see what kind of country we are travelling through. I am sure glad that we are leaving Russia and Armenia because I am sick of what I have seen. I think that these tourists who are trying to see ravished Armenia will be sorry they ever came over. These relief workers are nearly dead from work. They are the people who can tell the U. S. something about this country."

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison Ave., New York, is now appealing for funds to continue the work so graphically described by the young American sailor.

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

What Edison did during the War

THE official announcement is out. Ask us for your copy of "What Edison Did During the War." Write for it, if you can't call.

It tells how Edison left his home and business and went to sea, how Edison's "Yankee magic" foiled the German submarines.

The bulletin tells many other things Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board. It explains how Edison kept the price of his phonograph at bed rock during an era of high costs and soaring prices. Since 1914 the New Edison has advanced in price less than 15%—and part of this is war tax.

This bulletin also describes the Budget Plan, which makes it possible for every home to enjoy the benefits of good music without feeling the financial outlay.
